MARKET COMMENTS

The demand for choice gold and silver coins is still continuing strong. With the approaching issuance of the 1947 catalog, collectors seem to be buying more heavy than usual. We quote from the Trade Letter recently received from the publishers of the Standard Catalog, "The general rise in price of nearly all United States coins has continued unabated. New values have been most spectacular in some series. The whole catalog has had a complete revision to adjust values to present day levels."

Our recent buying ads for choice gold coins have brought us fewer than we had anticipated, further bearing out what we had surmised some time ago—namely, that choice gold for sale is practically non-existent except when outstanding collections come upon the market. In view of the above, we feel that choice gold (proof and uncirculated) can advance somewhat more in keeping with their demand and supply.

Patterns are still in keen demand with the supply shorter than ever. With the increased interest in patterns, the publishers of the Standard Catalog have announced the future publication of a new pattern book. This is a much needed work and will probably increase the interest in this field.

The long neglected three and two cent pieces are finally coming into their own. Naturally, this will be reflected in rising prices.

Dimes are now one of the most popular series with interest extending back to the early dates. The supply of choice specimens of the earlier dates is very small indeed. Mercury dimes of the scarcer dates have disappeared off the market and whenever offered, generally receive top prices. The demand for the 1916-D is very heavy with only an occasional specimen being offered.

The 1909-Svdb after remaining static in price for the last six months or so seems to have started up once more.

With the publication of the currency catalog (part II, 1946) the demand has been accelerated. In our opinion, currency prices will rise sharply as collectors try to obtain choice specimens from the small floating supply.
